

Office Hunters Look Out!

Messrs. Editors,—As it has become fashionable to put interrogatories to candidates up for office, that the people may vote understandingly upon all matters that concern them, I have assumed to myself the right of inquiring of his honor Judge Clayton, whether if the doctrine of Nullification, (as advocated by him) if established, would not go to the correction or nullifying the unconstitutional laws, as well of Georgia as that of the General Government? If so, what we would do to suppress the Indians from Gold digging in the chartered limits of Georgia, under the decision made by himself, in the case of Conatoo, in which case he awarded them the right to dig.
