

Mr. Pemberton of the Augusta Chronicle, says in his paper of the 6th inst., that it is "his painful duty" to inform his friends, that Judge Clayton "has determined, finally and decidedly, not to be a candidate, or to permit his name to be submitted to the convention" for nomination for the office of Governor—that he (Clayton) will go, from policy, with the anti nullification nullifiers in the nomination and support of Mr. Gilmer, and that he (Pemberton) will from principle do no such thing. Thus between policy and principle, the tenderest ties of political friendship are in danger of being rent asunder forever—but alas! the best of friends must sometimes part.
