

COMMUNICATED.

DIED—on the 26th ult. in Columbia county, Mr. JOHN YANHOVEN, in his twenty third year. The best testimonial of a man's virtues is their universal praise and admiration. And perhaps, no one has joined the congregation of the dead, more meritorious of the remark than this amiable young man. Let those say with whom he was acquainted, what was the honest disinterestedness of his friendship? What were the gentle blandishments of his heart? What was the laudable simplicity of all his virtues? But that feeling which entwined him around an aged and tottering parent, can only be told by the one, who having long been supported by a lonely and single pillar, amid the stormy scenes of this world, suddenly finds it crumbled beneath her.

Died, in Milledgeville, on the morning of the 5th inst. THOMAS P. CARRIS, Esq. of Clark county, formerly Judge of this State, and eminently distinguished in his profession.
