

On Thursday last, the citizens of this place testified their respect for their fellow citizen, William H. Crawford, giving him a public dinner. Among the toasts that closed that festive occasion were the following –

... By Col. Clayton – William H. Crawford, the politician who is unswayed by popular wishes, unawed by courtly frowns.